Loving Creator, fill our hearts with such goodness that others may know we have a relationship with you.

The faces of children are proof enough of God.

American Independence

John Adams, who became America's second president, was so elated when the United States was about to celebrate independence from England that he wrote:

“It ought to be commemorated as the day of deliverance, by solemn acts of devotion to God Almighty. It ought to be solemnized with pomp and parade, with shows, games, sports, guns, bells, bonfires, and illuminations from one end of this continent to the other, from this time forward, forevermore.”

“Reason and experience both forbid us to expect that national morality can prevail in exclusion of religious principle.”

George Washington
