Grandparents Reflect God

A woman and her grandson were spending the day together. Suddenly, the boy had an “a-ha!” expression and asked, “Grandma, do you know how you and God are alike?”

The grandmother smiled to herself and mentally polished her halo a bit. “No”, she replied. “How?”

“You’re both old!” the boy said.

Ah, but more grandparents really are like God in many ways—kind, loving, forgiving, understanding, comforting, creative, wise. Above all, they’ve guided us to walk in God’s paths.

Thank you, God, for these special people who have lived long enough to become like you, in many ways.

September 25 is See You at the Pole Day. Everyone pray for each other and the leaders of our country during this observance.

Library

There are a lot of good books in the church library. There are fiction, non-fiction, bible study and just for fun books. This is a very economical and easy entertainment for you or your family. The library was built to serve you and yours. Take advantage today.

Willing to Sacrifice

Robert Coleman, in Written in Blood (Fleming H. Revell), tells of a boy whose sister needed a blood transfusion. The boy was the ideal donor because the two children had the same rare blood type. When the doctor asked, “Would you give your blood to your sister?” the boy hesitated.

Finally, with a trembling lip, he said, “Sure, I’d do it for her.” Soon a nurse inserted a needle into the boy’s arm. As he watched his blood flow out, his voice shook. He asked, “Doctor, when do I die?” The doctor then realized the gravity of the boy’s decision. He’d thought giving his blood to his sister meant giving up his own life.

The boy’s love for his sister mirrored Jesus’ love for all. Fortunately for us, Jesus loved us so deeply that he was willing to die so we might live.

For the message of the cross is foolishness to those who are perishing,
but to us who are being saved
it is the power of God.

1 Corinthians 1:18, NIV
